Initial Days in Field

In Deep Thoughts

Hey guys!!!!

I am currently handling Business Development for our Company at Noida. I want to share with you my story in brief —

कुछ मुश्किल नहीं इस जहाँ में, सोचने की हिम्मत तो कर ।
मिट्टी छोड़ मेरे दोस्त, हमने तो पत्थर में भी पौधे पनपते दे खे हैं।

I was born and brought up in Mathura, birthplace of lord Krishna. Basically, I am from a farmer family and my Father (my role model- a socially active person) got government job later in Railways then we shifted to town. Mother (my first GURU) continued to be a homemaker. I am the eldest son to my parents and have one brother (my closest DOST) and one sister (my best caretaker during studies), both are married and settled in their lives.

I did my schooling in Mathura from Kendriya Vidhyalaya. Apart from studies, I participated in many extra-curricular activities during my schooling days and served as school captain during XII class.

As the boom during those days was for Engineering, so I pursued Engineering in Electronics & Communication Engineering from BIET Jhansi from 2004-2008.

I heard of HLS Asia Limited during my third year and looking at the work and package offered, made up my mind to join the company. Attended offline test and interview in Noida and was selected for field visit. I was aligned for a field visit in Agartala and for Agartala we would require catching flight from Kolkata (First day to travel in flight that too KINGFISHER and excitement was on peak).

Unfortunately, my professor marked me absent while I was on my field visit, which could have resulted in missing my semester exams (those days minimum attendance was required to appear in semester exams). You know government college professor “Yato pehle padhai kar lo ya naukari lo, ab ye absent lagegi aur mein dekhta hoon tumhe kaun bachata hai”. I was like shocked (everything was done in consultation with college!!! What the hell he is saying). Anyways with good academic and discipline record DEAN instructed to professor to consider my request. Took a deep breath!!!! AHHHHHHHHH.

Finally joined HLSA in July 2008 and lot of stories happened during initial days, all the way a totally different experience with adventure and learnings.

In Feb 2011, I met my better half, Richa (my life support - highly supportive and understanding, btw she is a good home economist) and got married. Luckily or unluckily MRII failed in Agartala and within couple of days I was required to move to Agartala, cancelling all my after-marriage trips. My family and in-laws family were like WHAT????? But being Maintenance Engineer I felt obliged to my duty and somehow MRII was my baby that time.

In Sep 2012, God blessed me with my sweetheart baby girl Edhita (my lifeline - most close to my heart). Again, got message I became dad in the wireline logging unit while doing Basic OH logging in Jorhat on 7th September 2012. Again, my family and in-laws were like WHAT?????

In Sep 2019, God blessed me with “ghar me koi shararat karne wala” baby boy Vidit (my future ambition and future suggestion box). Luckily, this time I was with my family and kisi se kuch sunna nahi pada!!!!

Faced the challenging issues of Agartala operations as EIC (which was my dream job in 2009-2010 looking at acting EICs: kya mein kabhi EIC banoonga?). During those days Company appreciated my performance and honored me with best Engineer Award (this was only a few months or a year after I joined Operations having shifted from Maintenance).

ONGC Agartala project wound up and I moved to Barmer; a new challenge for full OH logging with all high-tech tools. A lot of day and night activity and great learnings!

As per company's requirement I was moved to Mumbai as coordinator for British Gas operations (here ends my job as Engineer in the field) and I took an early morning flight on 25th Feb 2014. Why do you think I remember this date? Because it was my marriage anniversary!

Then journey of offshore operations started as I visited few offshore rigs. Faced many challenges, learned a lot of things while handling operations for BG and ONGC till October 2020. Moved to Business Development (I think BD is in my blood, Operations is my passion) with greater opportunities and learnings.

I believe in Karm karo fal ki ichha mat karo (I don't know if I am wrong but till now in life, I felt I am correct), and this world (specially: family and Company) really met more than my expectation for the same. I received great career, respect, freedom, opportunities in the company in return for whatever I have done. I believe ROI is good (on lighter side).

I am thankful from my heart to all family members and every member of Company who was part of journey till now and wish great life and future to all.

इंसान अकेला चलता है जनाब, उसकी फितरत और कर्म उसका कारवां बनाते हैं।

और फिर उसी कारवां के साथी, उसकी जिंदगी को यादगार बनाते हैं।

When I look Up At the Night Sky

When I look up at the night sky,
I think about another day that's gone by
I wonder what lies beyond,
Much beyond where any human has peeked.

The night sky is such a mystery.
When I ask it how it came to be
It shrouds itself with a blanket dark,
With tiny holes that teases me.

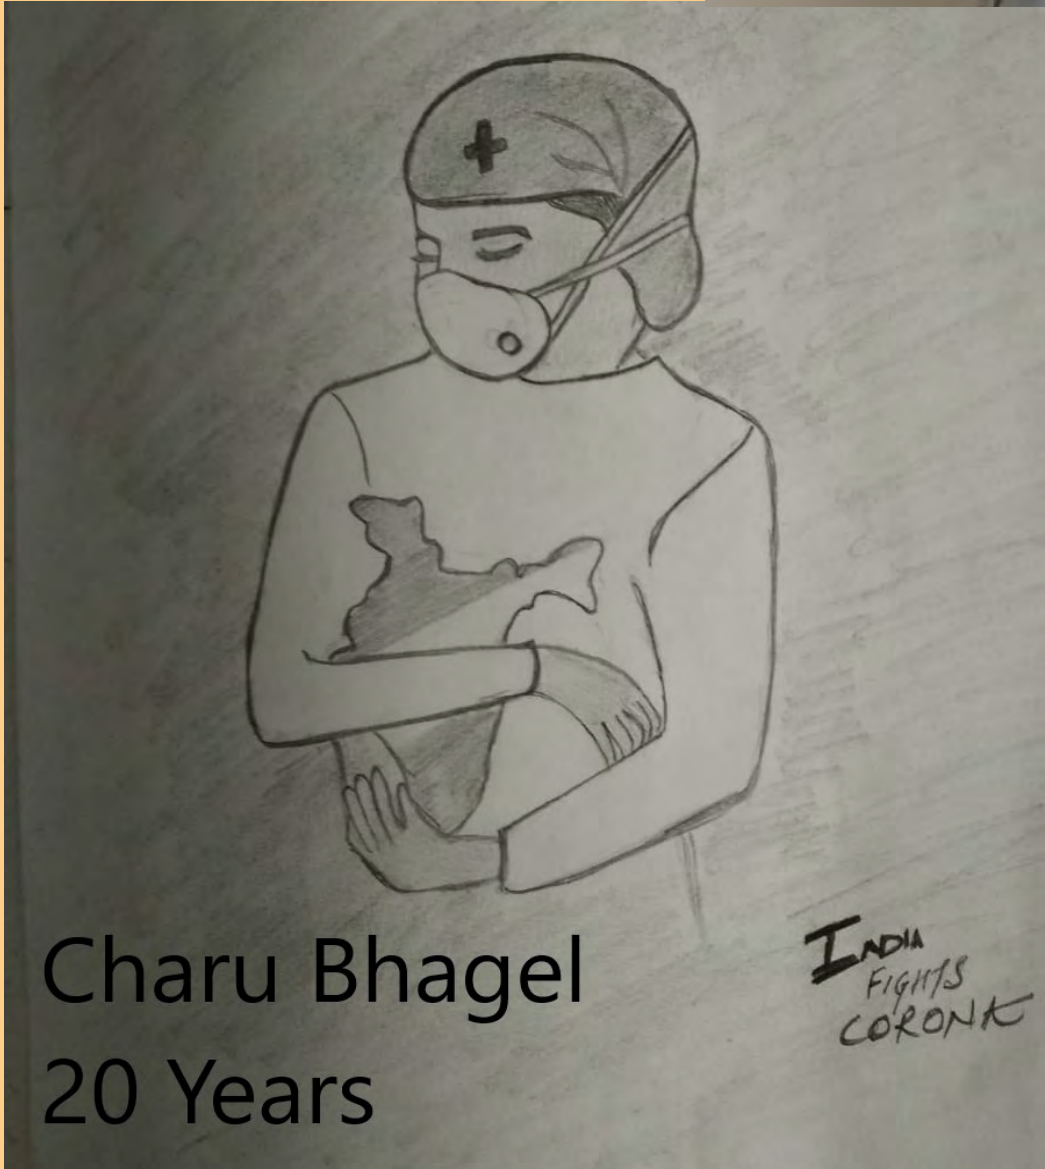

I am sure it would befriend me,
If only I could reach to it
But for now, all I can do is lay in bed,
Waiting for the dawn to break.
